The `border` theme

- A dark-grey border is added

- The text is mostly black and white

- Based on the `default` theme

---
marp: true
theme: border
---
```

The `gradient1` theme

- The default theme with a different background

```
---
marp: true
theme: gradient1
---
```

The `beamer` theme

- Inspired by the Beamer LaTeX document class

- Specifically the Copenhagen dolphin variant

```
---
marp: true
theme: beamer
---
```

- Supports title pages by calling `<!-- _class: title -->` (see `beamer-sample.md`)
  - But make sure to only call this on the very first page
  - And only use simple text (no bullet points) to further specify your name, institution, and date
    - Only the `` element will be centered (this was the best I could do with my limited CSS knowledge, sorry)

Installation

This assumes that you're using the VSCode extension...

- In VSCode, go to
  - Preferences: Open Settings (UI)
  - Search for "Marp: Themes"
  - Add either a local or a remote path
    - e.g.: https://raw.githubusercontent.com/rnd195/my-marp-themes/main/border.css
  - Try restaring VSCode if it doesn't work right away
